Management and the Virtual Law Firm

A virtual law firm (VLF) is the use of technology through a secure means of online communication for legal practitioners to deliver services to clients. Considering the growing global nature of litigation, this allows practitioners from different firms to collaborate on issues for clients, save and manage data, and communicate with clients at a distance to achieve a common interest in the service of their client. For clients, it allows them to select and work with practitioners who have the necessary skills and experience. Experienced in-house counsel from Europe and North America will discuss the legal and logistical issues they face in handling cross-border litigation, together with solutions for managing such litigation effectively through the use of such innovations as the VLF.

MODERATOR | Laura E. Proctor, *LP Building

FACULTY

Michael F. Aylward is a senior partner in the Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A., office of Morrison Mahoney LLP. For three decades, he has represented insurers and reinsurers in insurance coverage disputes throughout the nation. He is the chair of DRI's Law Institute and a former chair of the Reinsurance, Excess and Surplus Lines Committees of both the FDCC and IADC.

Mark L. Berenblut is senior vice president with NERA in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. He is an expert in economics, finance, valuation, accounting, and financial investigation for complex arbitration and litigation matters. He is qualified in the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom. His experience includes economic studies, securities and intellectual property valuation, economic damage quantification, and fraud investigation. Mark Berenblut is an editorial board member of The Business Valuation Digest and author of The Litigator's Guide to Expert Witnesses and Proving Economic Loss.

Martin Bernet has been a partner with Schellenberg Wittmer, one of the leading business law firms in Switzerland, since 1989. Mr. Bernet heads the firm's dispute resolution group in Zurich. His practice focuses on international litigation and arbitration, as well as insurance. For many years, he has been ranked by his peers as one of Switzerland's leading litigation and arbitration practitioners in professional directories.

Ora Clayton is a senior associate at Arthur Cox in Dublin, Ireland. She serves as the Young Lawyers Committee liaison for DRI International. Ms. Clayton advises companies and organizations within the food, health care, pharmaceutical, and retail sectors on contentious and non-contentious issues. She regularly advises on both general and sector specific EU and national requirements in relation to a range of products and advises on recalls and withdrawals.

Christine Gateau is a litigation partner in the Paris, France, office of Hogan Lovells. She specializes in product liability litigation and in claims arising from commercial contracts. Ms. Gateau also has a particular expertise in IT and e-commerce disputes. She is listed in the Legal Media Group's Guide to the World's Leading Product Liability Lawyers. Ms. Gateau regularly speaks at seminars in Europe and in the United States. She is the current European membership co-chair for DRI International.

Laurent Geelhand currently serves as general counsel Europe for Michelin in Clermont-Ferrand, France. From 1990–1998, he was in private practice at a New York law firm and a Brussels firm. Mr. Geelhand joined Michelin in 1998. He lectures regularly and has published on litigation issues, specifically competition laws. As in-house counsel, he has had success turning his legal department into a profit center. Mr. Geelhand attended law schools in the Université Libre de Bruxelles (Brussels, Belgium) and the University of Washington (Seattle, U.S.A.).

Edward F. Hanover III is currently general counsel for Novo Nordisk Region International Operations A/S in Zurich, Switzerland, where he is responsible for the legal and compliance functions in the emerging markets. Prior to moving to Switzerland, Mr. Hanover worked for Novo Nordisk Inc. in Princeton, New Jersey, U.S.A., where he was responsible for litigation and investigations.

Christopher Hodges, Ph.D., is head of the CMS Research Programme on Civil Justice Systems at the Centre for Socio-Legal Studies at the University of Oxford. He is the Erasmus Professor of the Fundamentals of Private Law at Erasmus University, Rotterdam. Dr. Hodges is a life member of Wolfson College, Oxford, and a solicitor. He has a global reputation as an expert on class actions, collective redress, consumer ADR, and European legal systems. He is well published and regularly advises the European Commission, various governments, and business and consumer interests.

Dieter Hofmann heads the litigation and arbitration practice group of Walder Wyss Ltd., one of Switzerland's leading law firms. Mr. Hofmann focuses on dispute resolution in complex, mainly international cases and has considerable experience in disputes arising from shareholders' agreements, joint-ventures, international contracts, engineering and construction projects, banking, finance and (re-)insurance, directors' liability, and insolvency. He is the chair of the Zurich Bar litigation practice group and the chair of DRI International.

Ben Hubble QC of London, United Kingdom, is a specialist in professional liability and commercial work, often involving claims against accountants, directors, insurance brokers, and lawyers arising from corporate collapse, lender losses or failed tax and investment schemes. Multi-party and group litigation is a particular expertise. Mr. Hubble continues to represent Collyer-Bristow in the Innovator and Keydata litigation, which involves claims by 650 claimants arising from failed investment schemes. He was nominated for Professional Negligence Silk of the Year at the Chambers & Partners Bar Awards 2012.

Paul M. Lavelle is a member of Winstead PC's litigation and dispute resolution practice group and the managing shareholder of its New Orleans, Louisiana, U.S.A., office. His extensive trial and class action experience includes product liability, construction, environmental, maritime, insurance, intellectual property, and general civil litigation. He has represented his clients in courts in a number of different jurisdictions. Mr. Lavelle is the chair emeritus of DRI's Law Institute, and a former DRI officer and board member.

Robert Lawson QC, of Quadrant Chambers, London, United Kingdom, has practiced as a barrister for more than 23 years, obtaining the rank of Queen's Counsel in 2009. His broad commercial practice includes contractual disputes, product liability, insurance related issues, conflict of laws, jurisdictional disputes and multi-jurisdiction litigation, with a particular emphasis upon aviation, travel, and professional discipline. He has acted as advocate in many high-profile cases, including a considerable number creating significant new legal precedent.

Thomas Lingen is the managing director and executive director of legal, security, and insurance for the Ingram Micro EMEA division of Ingram Micro Holding GMBH in Munich, Germany. From 1998–2001, he served as legal and tax manager for European Central Region Crown Cork & Seal. Prior to that, Mr. Lingen was a senior associate with Arthur Andersen.

Tyler Mace is an assistant general counsel at Philip Morris International in Lausanne, Switzerland, with responsibility for regulatory challenges and litigation in a variety of national and international forums. Prior to joining Philip Morris International, Mr. Mace was a partner in the Washington, D.C., U.S.A., office of an international law firm, focusing on complex commercial litigation and white collar criminal defense.

Erwan Poisson is a partner at Allen & Overy LLP, based in the firm's Paris, France, office. He is both an Avocat à la Cour and a Solicitor to the Supreme Court of England and Wales. Mr. Poisson has worked in France and in the United Kingdom. He advises French and foreign companies in complex disputes in civil and criminal courts, with a focus on banking, finance, and corporate litigation.

Laura E. Proctor is associate general counsel over litigation with LP Building Products in Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.A. Ms. Proctor focuses her litigation practice on product liability, employment law, construction, antitrust, toxic torts, premises liability, and general tort litigation. She currently serves as DRI's second vice president, is a member of the steering committee for DRI's Corporate Counsel Committee, and is a former DRI secretary-treasurer. Ms. Proctor is a member of the IADC, where she serves on the Corporate Counsel Advisory Committee.

Marie-Claude Simard, LLB, MBA, is manager of product safety for Bombardier Recreational Products Inc. in Valcourt, Quebec, Canada. She is involved in product safety, international safety recall management, and regulatory investigations. Ms. Simard has experience dealing with numerous governmental authorities in the United States, Canada, Brazil, European Union, Australia, and New Zealand. She is also involved with costs forecasting and management of litigation matters. Previously, she worked with the litigation team and was involved in product liability, commercial, and intellectual property cases.

Christian Thomas Stempfle, a partner with Noerr LLP in Munich, Germany, is one of the firm's leading litigators. Mr. Stempfle deals with cross-border disputes, insolvency and commercial litigation, and arbitration. Inter alia, he acted on behalf of the German administrator of the assets of the BenQ OHG in a major dispute against Qisda/BenQ. As a consequence of the financial crisis, Mr. Stempfle and his team defended several German municipalities against claims based on derivative transactions. He is admitted as German Rechtsanwalt and Solicitor (England and Wales).

Charles A. "Chuck" Stewart III is a partner in the Montgomery, Alabama, U.S.A., office of Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP. He is admitted to practice in Alabama and Tennessee. He has extensive trial experience, representing corporations in numerous states in product liability, employment, large personal injury, and business litigation. Mr. Stewart is the chair of DRI's Product Liability Committee and is the immediate past chair of his firm's product liability practice group.

E. Wayne Taff, founder of the Law Office of E. Wayne Taff in Blue Springs, Missouri, U.S.A., has tried lawsuits throughout the United States, serving as national and local trial counsel for numerous product and chemical manufacturers. He has served DRI as secretary-treasurer, director, chair of the Law Institute, and chair of the Product Liability Committee. Mr. Taff has worked extensively with DRI Europe.

Anne M. Talcott is a shareholder at Schwabe Williams & Wyatt in Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. She focuses her practice on complex business, product liability, and pharmaceutical litigation. Ms. Talcott is licensed in Oregon and Washington, and serves as northwest regional counsel for several clients. She is the past chair of the Oregon State Bar Product Liability Section.

Dr. Meinrad Vetter is a deputy judge at the Commercial Court of the Canton of Aargau, Switzerland. In his capacity as a judge, Dr. Vetter handles complex commercial disputes arising from all relevant areas of business law. Prior to taking on his part-time position at the court, Dr. Vetter worked in a major Swiss business law firm in their litigation team. In addition to his duty as a sitting judge, he is counsel with economiesuisse. He is also a lecturer at the University of St. Gall (HSG).

Feodor Vyacheslavov is a partner at ALRUD Law Firm in Moscow, Russia. He successfully advises and represents clients' interests in Russian state courts of all instances, including the Supreme Arbitrazh Court of the RF and International Commercial Arbitration Court under the Chamber of Commerce of the Russian Federation. He has wide experience in cross-border and antitrust disputes, recognition and enforcement of arbitration awards, and state court decisions.

Glenn M. Zakaib is a partner with Cassels Brock & Blackwell LLP in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. His practice focuses on product liability and class proceedings. Mr. Zakaib is involved in numerous precedent-setting cases and leading class action cases. He is listed by Chambers Global Guide as a leading lawyer in dispute resolutions and recognized by Best Lawyers in Canada for class action litigation and product liability. He is the immediate past chair of DRI International, a regional director of DRI, and the board liaison to DRI International.
